

TO SAVE EYES

IS THE OBJECT OF THIS FREE PRESCRIPTION—TRY IT IF YOUR EYES GIVE YOU TROUBLE

Thousands of people suffer from eye troubles, because they do not know what to do. They know some good home remedy for every other minor ailment, but none for their eye troubles. They neglect their eyes, because the trouble is not sufficient to drive them to an eye specialist, who would, anyway, charge them a heavy fee. As a last resort they go to an optician or to the five and ten-cent store, and oftentimes get glasses that they do not need, or which, after being used two or three months, do their eyes more injury than good. Here is a simple prescription that everyone should use:

2 grains Opton (1 tablet)
5 grains water

Use three or four times a day to bathe the eyes. This prescription and the simple Opton system keeps the eyes clear, sharpens the vision and quickly overcomes inflammation and irritation; weak, watery, overworked, tired eyes and other similar troubles are greatly benefited and oftentimes cured by its use. Many reports show that wearers of glasses have discarded them after a few weeks' use. It is good for the eyes and contains no ingredients which would injure the most sensitive eyes of an infant or the aged. Any druggist can fill this prescription promptly. Try it and know for once what real eye comfort is.

RECENT DEATHS OF VERMONTERS

Dr. James Byron Brooks, dean of the College of Law, Syracuse University, since 1890, died on Wednesday night in Syracuse, N. Y. He was prominent in civic affairs for many years. He had been in ill-health for some time. He served during the Civil war in Vermont regiments, finally as captain of Company H, fourth Vermont regular infantry.

Dr. Brooks was born in Rockingham on June 27, 1839, the son of Nathaniel and Emily (Cutler) Brooks. He was educated at Dartmouth and the Albany Law school, attending these places after his return from his war service. As a lawyer he later practiced in Syracuse, where in addition to being dean of the College of Law, he had served as an alderman, school commissioner and member of the water board, also as trustee of Syracuse University. He was a member of the American Bar association, the New York State Bar association, the Onondaga County Bar association, the Phi Beta Kappa, Psi Upsilon and Phi Delta Phi fraternities. He married on September 7, 1873, Miss Caroline Lucella Jewell of East Orange.

ABOUT THE STATE

HAPPENINGS OF INTEREST FROM DIFFERENT SECTIONS

The lightning Wednesday night, June 24, struck several trees by Thomas Cross house in Beaver, and killed three pigs which were in a yard out doors.

Donald, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bean of Enosburg Falls, was badly injured a few days ago when he fell from the roof of one of L. L. Marsh's storehouses in the rear of the feed store to a pile of stones, sustaining three broken ribs, a severe gash on the head, and other bruises about the body. He was playing with two other boys on the roof of the storehouse, which is not very steep, when in some manner he fell a distance of nearly 20 feet, striking on his side and head.

In hurrying to reach their homes before the severe thunder shower of last Wednesday, a team occupied by Fred R. Reynolds, his two sisters, Mrs. Ruth Yasinski and Miss Caroline Reynolds, and Mrs. Yasinski's 11-month-old baby, and an automobile belonging to Mrs. George Yalder and driven by W. H. Maynard, collided in Fair Haven with serious consequences to the carriage load. The Reynolds party was just turning into their own yard when, without warning, the lights of the automobile loomed up in front of them only a few feet away. The car struck the horse in the forelegs, breaking both, the surrey was tipped over and the occupants thrown into the air, while the carriage and horse were dragged some distance before the auto could be stopped. Mrs. Yasinski was hit in the stomach and badly injured; Miss Reynolds' right shoulder was injured, the muscle in one arm sprained and the bones in her left foot were broken between the toes and the instep, and her hip was also hurt; Mr. Reynolds was injured internally, but the baby was unhurt. The horse, valued at $400, had to be shot immediately. The automobile party was uninjured.

THE BUSINESS FARMER'S CORNER

THE ANNUAL CLEANING UP OF THE INCUBATORS

E. O. MORTON

About the middle of June, the hatching season is almost over, so the time has come for cleaning up the incubators. Unfortunately, it is frequently a great temptation to put off this work until winter, when it always seems as though there would be more leisure. But this is a great mistake and the result invariably is that the dirty, germ-filled incubators—and this just when they are the most needed.

A tried and experienced poultryman has, of course, his own particular methods at such a time, but the novice, on the other hand, is often puzzled to know just how and with what to start in. The following suggestions, then, will be found helpful for those who have finished their first "incubator season": First, take out the trays, brush them thoroughly and wash them with hot water, to which has been added a tablespoonful of some good disinfectant to a gallon of water. The washing over, set the trays in the sun for an airing and to dry. Disconnect the lamps and give them and the flues a good cleaning, and when wiping out the lamp flue a milk bottle brush will prove an excellent cleaner. Brush out the bottom of the incubator and go over it with warm water and the disinfectant, as specified above.

Varnish the Old Machines.

If the machine has been in use for several seasons, it should be wiped off with a damp cloth and the top, sides and legs given a fresh coat of varnish; also, if it happens to be of the hot water type, empty out all the water, filling it full again with fresh, clean water, and leave it until needed for use again, when it should, of course, be refilled again, but do not leave it next winter where the water may freeze in it.

All this may seem to the beginner to be a vast amount of unnecessary labor, but it is always well to remember the fact that it is possible a number of the little chicks may have been born with the germ of some disease, and therefore it is only by using the greatest of precautionary measures and the most thorough methods of cleanliness that one may be quite sure of having destroyed all the germ life to which fowls are so often subject. Indeed, it will be found that the most successful poultrymen, and the ones who carry off the blue ribbons at the shows, are invariably those who leave no stone unturned to keep everything to do with their poultry house and yards, etc., up to date and in the most immaculate condition, and surely these are the men whose example must be followed if success is looked for.
